QUILL

Sir, I have enjoyed working in your science projects class and I know we have had some good times that I won't forget. I am very grateful for all the time and assistance you gave to me this year and I am sure the others are too. None of us could have done what we did without you, you were the guiding factor throughout it all. I hope next year and those following will be at least partly as good as these ones that you supervised. Enjoy your retirement!

Good luck and God Bless!!

Dreams, hopes, ambitions, ideals . . . some fulfilled and some still to be accomplished. This is Enid High School.

As we students think of our future, the past year stands as a monument in our lives as it helped prepare us for the years ahead. This was our time of participation.

The excitement of our school spirit has been felt throughout the community. Students have participated in a variety of jobs and volunteer work. Through this type of involvement, we have learned responsibility and concern for our fellow man.

School activities included ball games, school plays, organizations, honor groups and pep club. However, these extracurricular events were incidental as we studied assignments, gaining new knowledge and interests for our future.

As we begin a new year, starting from scratch again, we have a deep new feeling for our school. We have grown to know Enid High as a friend and it has grown to love each one of us. But there's a new feeling about, a feeling of a closeness to our school, a feeling of oneness, a feeling of becoming one large working unit, a feeling of involvement never felt before. This is our school; this is our step forward; this is now.

*Amazing accomplishments
Through hours of effort.
Jobs well done
With an air of satisfaction.*

*We began our year as independent souls
Uninvolved and as yet unready.
We end our year entangled with life,
Ready to conquer an unknown world.*

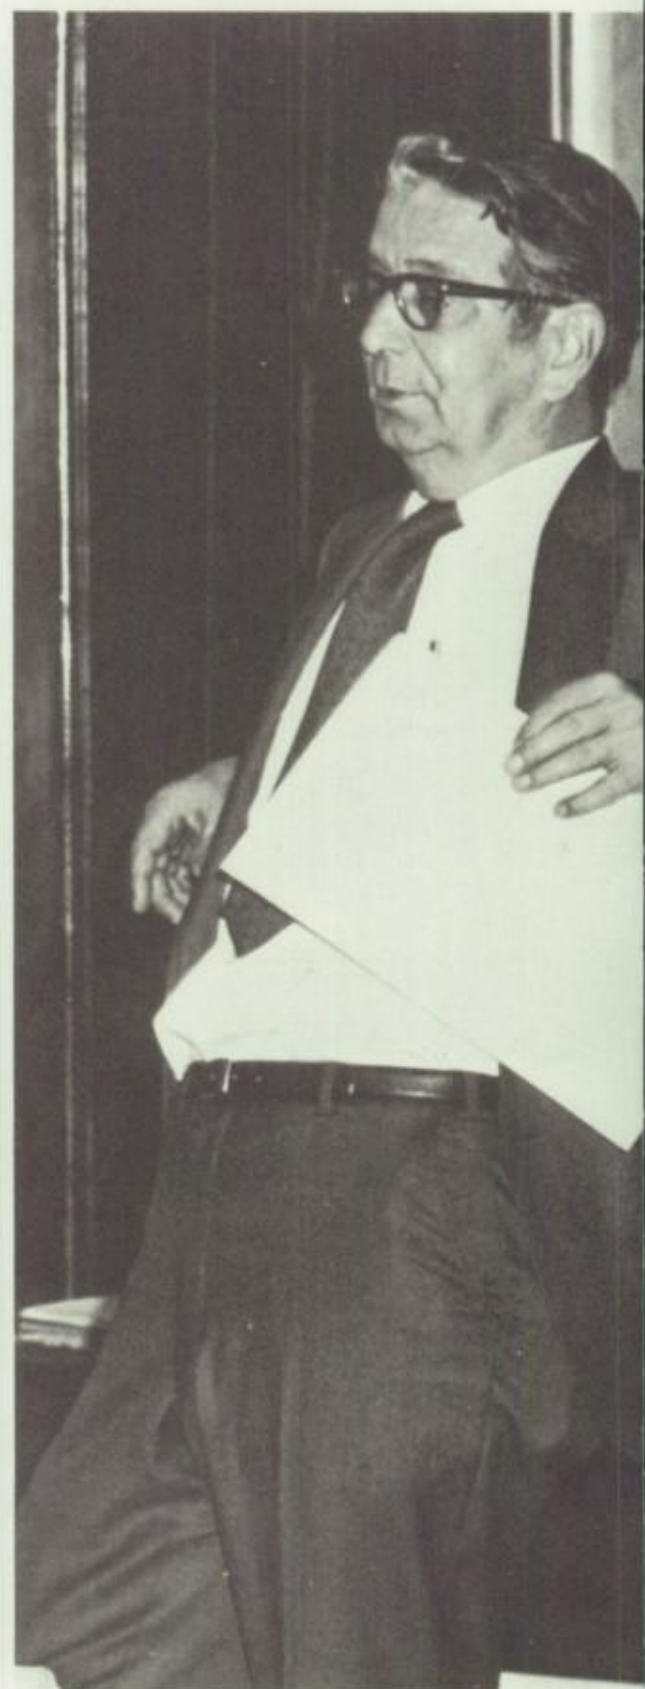

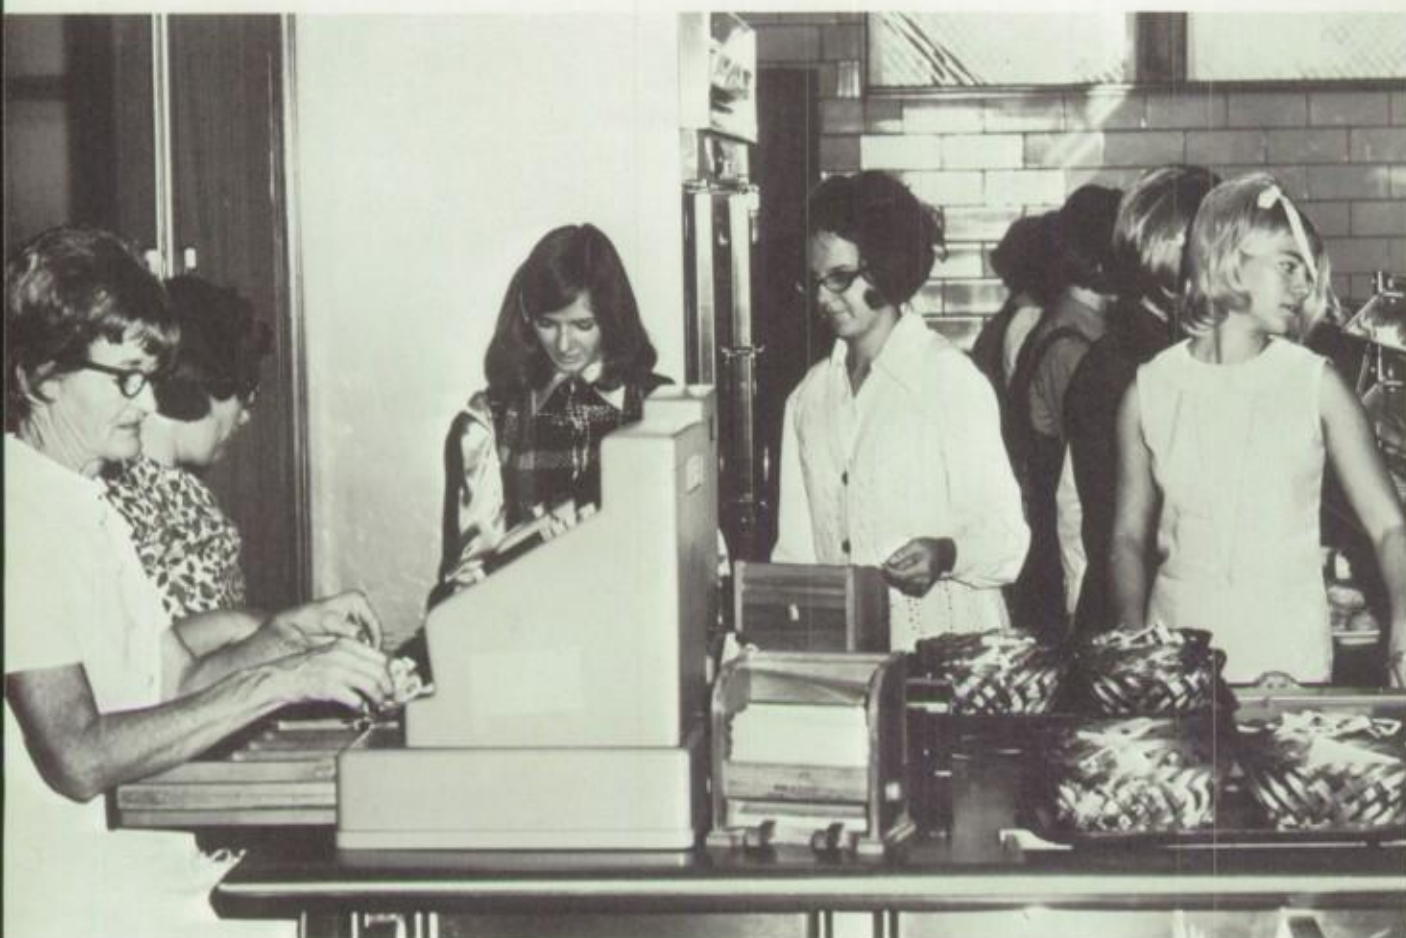

*Our school
A helping hand
A friendly smile
A listening ear.*

*Concern
A cheering crowd
A quiet time
Students entwined.*

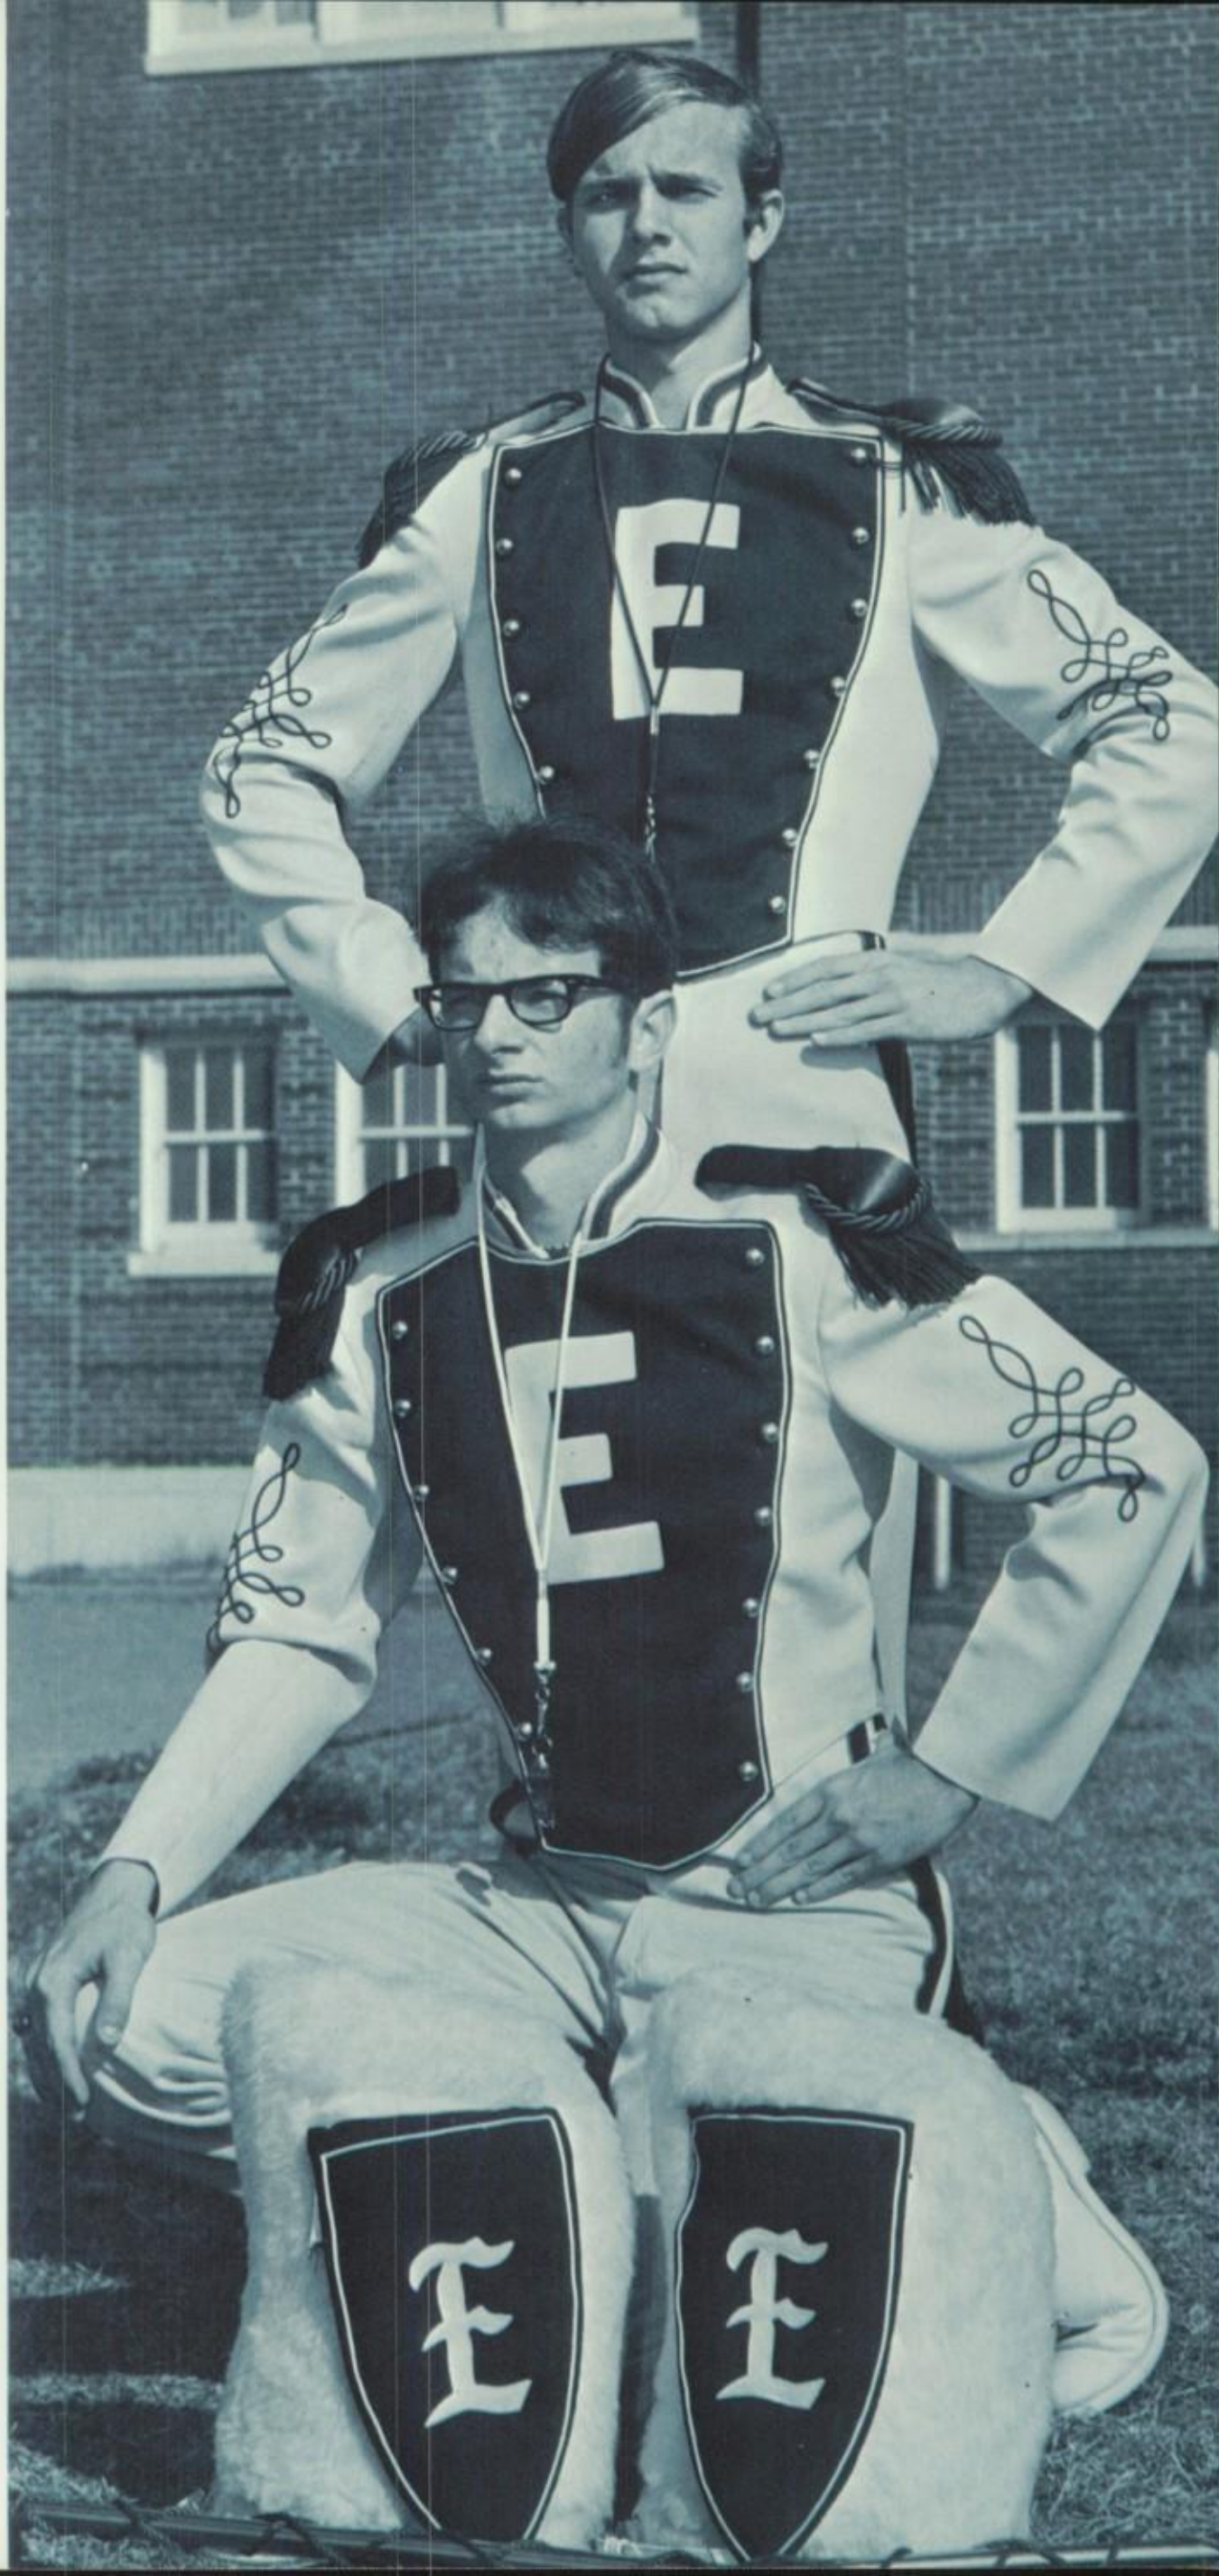

*Being with others,
Sharing thoughts,
Learning, working, listening.
A step onward.*

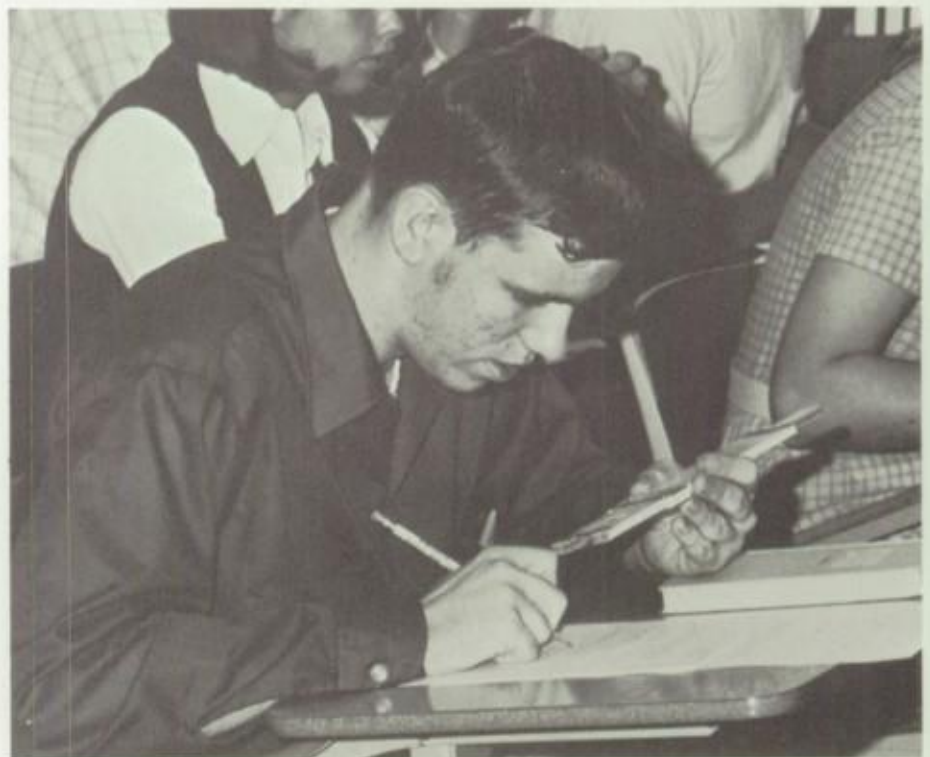

*Student involvement
Engulfs our lives
And, working together
We move forward.*

THE SCHOOL

Superintendent Spurs Enid City Interest

Mr. O. T. Autry, superintendent of the Enid school system, is an administrator working for and giving students of Enid and the surrounding area growth opportunities.

Through his efforts this past year, Plainsmen stadium has gained a new press box. Expansion of the facilities at the vocational technical school and promotion of new curriculum and methods are also areas of growth under Mr. Autry's leadership.

Community leaders who work diligently for the educational facilities of Enid are the members of the Enid Board of Education. This group of citizens correlates the workings of the school with the interests of the community.

The members of this board are participants on church boards, in church choirs, and serve on committees for civic clubs and benevolent organizations.

Through this board's concern and leadership, the students at Enid High School are given the opportunity of a thorough education, a step forward to life.

Mr. O. T. Autry, Superintendent.

Mr. Autry confers with city manager Tom Sailors and Mr. Jerry Reese, city recreational director concerning the improvement of city and educational programs.

Participating in the dedication of Enid Plainsmen Field's new press box in October were Mr. Autry and school board members Mr. Cleo Fisher, Mr. Allie Payne, and Mr. John Thorpe. Other school and city officials also attended.

Active Board Members Aid Community

President Margaret Buvinger, seated, checks school board meeting agenda with Mr. Milburn Carey, Mr. Wes Mounts (v-pres.) and Mr. Duane Moulton preceding the regular monthly meeting at the Enid Board of Education.

Mr. Allie Payne, Mr. Cleo Fisher and Mr. John Thorpe check blue prints for the addition to the O. T. Autry Vocational Technical center soon to be under construction, enlarging the present facilities of the school.

Community projects occupy a great deal of time for Mrs. Buvinger, here checking ticket sales for the Oklahoma City Symphony performances held this year in Enid.

Mauk Stirs Pride, Interest in Enid High

Plainsmen Pride is exemplified by the leadership of our principal, Mr. Gene Mauk. Mr. Mauk displays his ability to lead not only at Enid High School but in the community as well. Serving as president of the Oklahoma Secondary School Principals, his skill has been recognized by other principals across the state.

As a member of the Oklahoma Commission on Educational Administration, Mr. Mauk represents Enid High School. Besides serving on educational committees, he participates as a committeeman for the Boy Scouts of America and the Enid Lions Club.

Mr. Mauk's interests are student centered. Conferences with parents, guidance counselors, and the administrative staff and school board are only part of his daily routine. His desire for the best for Enid High is his constant goal. Mr. Mauk is a true Plainsmen.

The spirit of EHS is spurred by the enthusiasm of its principal, Mr. Mauk.

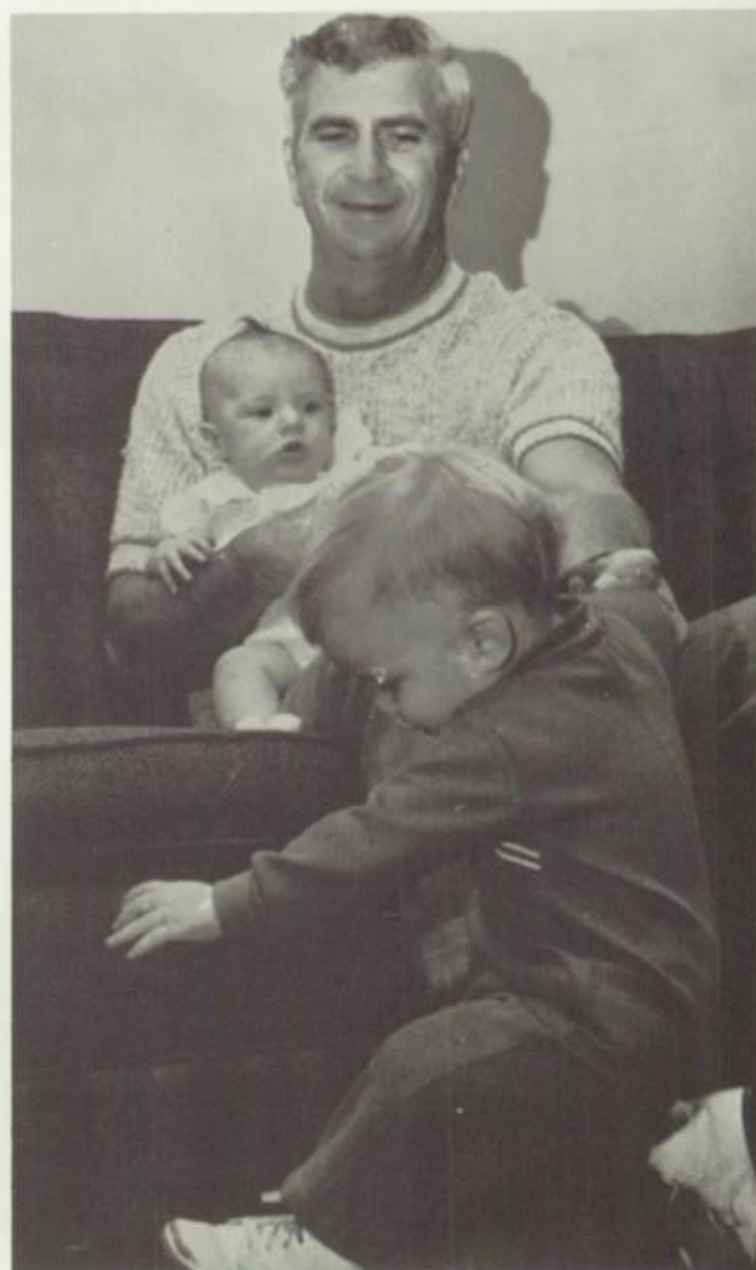

Office secretaries Mrs. Dorothy Hess, Mrs. Florence Scott and Mrs. Earline Massie assist Mr. Gene Mauk with daily tasks in the school general office: interviews, decisions, transcripts, honors, and attendance.

Mauk leads Friday pep assembly definitions creating school spirit for another conference gridiron meet.

Away from School, Mr. Mauk enjoys boating, yardwork, and his family, particularly grandchildren Kenny Cribble and Carmen Mauk.

GUIDANCE DIRECTORS: Mrs. Ann Martin, Mr. Zorns Berry, Mrs. Nellie McCreary, Mr. Dick Powers, and Mr. Jere Gigoux.

Mr. Dennis Iselin, vice-principal, aids the community in pollution control by riding his bicycle to school. Exercise is also one reason Mr. Iselin bicycles; another reason is for fun and personal enjoyment.

Guidance Boosts Involvement

Helping students is the aim of the Guidance Department. The guidance personnel aid students in gaining new insights, raising their scholastic standards, and helping better their outlook toward school.

Mrs. McCreary, the head of this department is one of the leading sponsors of the National Honor Society. Mr. Gigoux spent a lively summer touring Europe with a group of Enid High School students, demonstrating his concern for today's youth.

Mr. Berry working with the juniors and Mr. Powers working with sophomores have shown a great deal of concern and ability in the understanding of the students.

Mr. Niles has aided Mr. Mauk by taking many of the responsibilities which have to do with the student body. Mr. Iselin, the new assistant principal, has been a member of the staff for a number of years. He is gaining new insight into the problems of youth today.

Guiding, directing, counseling and leading are all tasks undertaken by the guidance counselors and vice-principals. Enid High School has a competent staff.

Vice-principal Tom Niles checks the position of the horseshoes with son Cliff. Family activities occupy most of Mr. Niles evenings and week-ends. Mr. Niles enjoys golf when time permits.

Teachers Benefit Enid

Another side of teachers that most students do not consider would be their extracurricular activities. Many teachers participate in worthwhile projects for community and home.

These activities include working for the church and belonging to Enid's many civic clubs which raise money and work to help others. Besides the serious aspect of life, teachers are human and enjoy many other activities. Golf, swimming, football, basketball, sewing, and cooking appeal to many of our instructors.

Family life also plays an important part in many lives and teachers are no exception. While yardwork and decorating homes fill the "after hours" of some teachers, enjoying their children and entertaining guests occupy others.

Teachers lead busy lives as shown by the E.H.S. instructors. Loyalty to Enid High is exemplified through overall enthusiasm of the entire staff.

Mr. Duane Keahey spends many hours preparing material and directing the youth choir at his local church.

Painting is only one of the many hobbies of Mrs. Wilda Walker, shown with one of her paintings. Mrs. Walker also writes poetry.

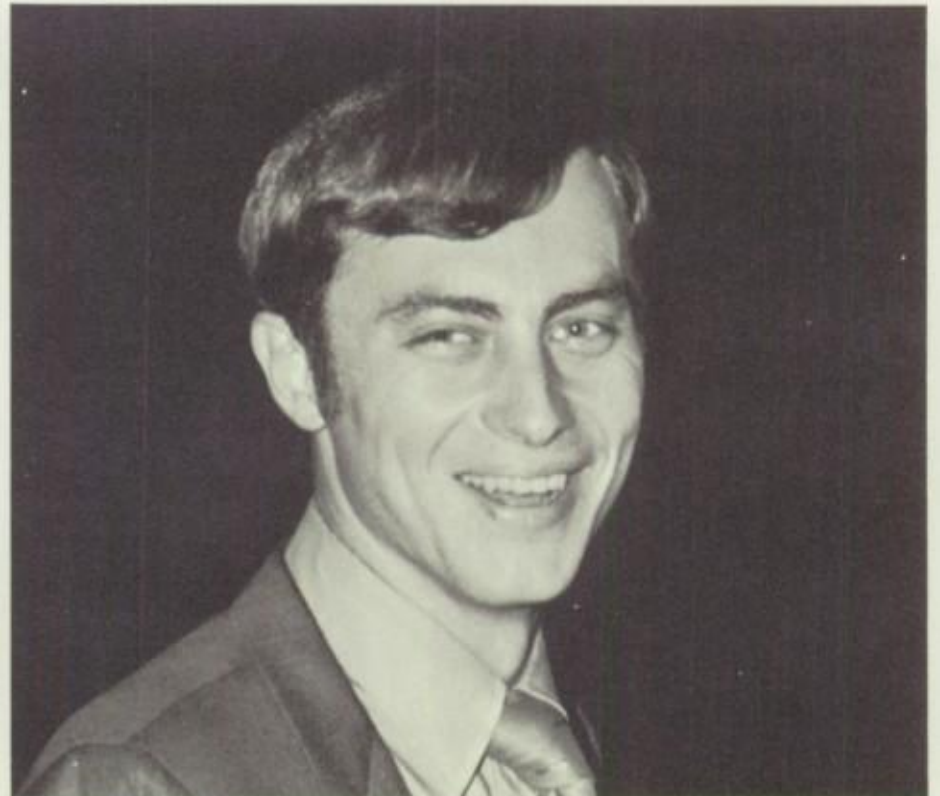

Teachers Effectuate Enthusiastic Spirit

Mr. Stanley Jenkins enjoys a brief respite from such duties at the stadium as ushering and helping Student Council sell concessions.

Helping in the press box with the official data of a junior high football game are Mr. Harley C. Vickers, Waller Junior High instructor, and Mr. Harley C. Collier.

With a gleam in his eye and a mischievous smile on his face, Mr. David Davis joins with enthusiasm the antics of the Big Blue band.

Devotion to Profession Highlights Service

Mr. Harold Duckett leaves the halls of EHS after forty-five years of teaching. He graduated from Enid High in 1925 and has attended many institutions of higher learning. Mr. Duckett is outstanding in the fields of mathematics, chemistry, and biology. He is science supervisor and audio-visual coordinator. In conducting the science projects class, Mr. Duckett has had many exhibitors traveling to international science fairs. Mr. Duckett is an outstanding faculty member; one who is always involved in Enid High's scholastic activities.

Another teacher retiring from the EHS faculty this year is Miss Ruth Scott. Miss Scott has taught at Enid High for thirty-eight years. In this time, she has been responsible for twenty-seven Quill annuals and all the Quill Weekly newspapers since 1934. She has taught in the fields of history, newswriting, and English. She was named Teacher of the Year in Enid in 1969 and is now president elect of the Northern District of Oklahoma Education Association. Even after retirement, Miss Scott will still remain active in her profession.

Mr. Harold Duckett and Miss Ruth Scott.

Checking correct adjustment of the microscope to the proper focus, Mr. Duckett helps his biology students Voni Allred, George Blair, and Mark Brady.

Aiding her newswriting students, Miss Scott looks over the shoulders of Kay Steen, Cheryl Heinrich, Jan Cutbirth, and Mari Scott.

Facts, Figures Fascinate Mathematicians

The math department offered geometry, algebra, advanced algebra, trigonometry, math analysis, and analytics. Many of the students enrolled in these courses were prospective members of Delta Theta Club.

One involved activity of Delta Theta was a two week study course of computers. Students were first introduced to computers by films and a field trip to Champlin Petroleum Company to view a computer in action. Professor Noel Smith of Phillips University conducted a course in the process of programming computers in which twenty-seven members and three teachers took part. Each student wrote his own program and the final classes were spent key punching the cards and receiving the results of their programs.

A free tutoring service was offered by the club to students of other math classes. This service was widely accepted and beneficial to many students.

These mathematical skills will prove to be helpful in the college education of these students. Through the use of modern teaching methods today's teachers have been able to prepare their pupils for careers in industry, computer sciences, and the Space Age projects of today and tomorrow.

School Publications Preserve Memories

Following long hours of drawing layouts and meeting deadlines, the yearbook staff completed the 1971 QUILL. Responsibilities mounted for all students as they raced to finish their assigned duties.

Designing layouts was only one of the varied tasks learned by staff members. Writing copy and captions, counting headlines, cropping pictures, and fitting them into the "dummy" were all a part of building our yearbook.

During the school year members of the Quill Weekly staff were busy writing and editing articles concerning school interest and events. Reporting club activities and news required the time and efforts of all those involved.

Students of both classes traveled to the University of Oklahoma for conferences of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association and to Oklahoma State University for High School Journalism Day.

J-Club Investigates Journalism Careers

Quill annual staff members Cynthia Shook, Mrs. Ruth Hodgson sponsor, Neil Oxford, Jennifer Klein, and Kathy Gunning, watch a workman trim unfinished annuals at the American Yearbook plant in Topeka, Kansas.

Development of editorial and feature writing, as well as experience in gathering information from various news sources proved to be of vital interest to Journalism Club members this year. Diversity in style and journalistic "finesse" were attained by in-depth study of numerous newswriting methods.

With the leadership of officers Chuck Hardcastle, president; Wendy Baker, vice president; Pam Barnard, secretary; Judy Crow, treasurer; and Brad Hutchinson, refreshment chairman, club members scheduled informative speakers. Ernie Schultz, Director for WKY-TV News, and Milton Garber, editor of the Enid Daily Eagle and Enid Morning News made their appearances at meetings during the year.

Practical experience and training acquainted newswriting students with the challenges offered in journalistic fields.

Probably the most interesting department in Enid High was the science department where students filled their minds with the laws of nature, substance, and the heavens.

The Chemistry Club, for the more inquisitive students, listened to the interesting talks of guest speakers at their monthly meetings. Several after school trips were made to Phillips University and Champlin Petroleum Company to get a close-up view of science at work.

The seven members of the Science Projects Class spent many hours building and displaying their projects at the local, regional, and state fairs. Each student wrote a science paper which he presented to the Junior Academy of Science at Northwestern State College and the State Junior Academy at Oklahoma State University.

CA Club Discusses Answers to Issues

Involving themselves in service to others, Mr. Thomas Lee, sponsor, Cindy Martin and Jamie Mize ring bells for the Salvation Army Christmas project, insuring happiness at Christmas to many area families.

Newsworthy events were examined and debated during the meetings of the Current Affairs Club. Topics ranged from drug abuse to the off-year elections. Michael Blazi, psychologist at the Garfield County Health Department, and first semester guest speaker, set the stage for future issues and discussions by club members.

Bell-ringing for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season and the planning of the Enid State School Christmas party comprised only a small portion of the community projects and services rendered by C.A. members.

Sponsored by Mr. Thomas Lee, Miss Evelyn Sanders, and Mr. Gerald Fluman, the Current Affairs Club promoted interest in civic affairs and the major issues of our time.

World Languages Intrigue EHS Students

With world travel becoming more and more convenient, foreign language is fast becoming a necessity. The language department of Enid High contains the modern equipment and able teachers necessary for success.

This year's Latin Club produced a monthly newspaper entitled "Tredecim Saxa." It included a summary of school events as well as numerous jokes and graffiti. The annual banquet to honor senior Latin students was also held.

The newly-organized Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Jamae Stewart, obtained many interesting native Spanish and Mexican speakers. They also had a traditional Mexican Christmas caroling party.

French classes this year were quite active. Not only did the classes see films spoken completely in French, but they also viewed French newsreels to increase their knowledge of the language and country.

With the help of all the language instructors, many Enid High students have learned a foreign language that will aid them in the years to come.

SPANISH CLUB — FIRST ROW: Jeanne Hong, Susan Thomas, Dana Ables, Pam Crossland, Edna Valentin, Debbie Bailey, Karen Smith, Charlotte Blackwell, Katrina Herbst, Frances Howland. Palette Club Promotes Artistic Talents

To further their artistic interests, the art students at Enid High School have the Palette Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Jim Giles and Mr. Eldon Ames. At their monthly meeting guest speakers are featured to promote their interests.

Their most important project comes at Christmas time when they decorate the Student Center with Yuletide cheer and design Christmas cards for teachers. Other projects throughout the year include exhibiting showcase displays and encouraging participation in art shows.

Skill and patience are some of the qualities future artists possess. The Palette club and art classes promote student talents.

Basic colors and mixtures are demonstrated in art class by Mr. James Giles to Rick Livingston and Pam Painter during fourth hour class: fundamentals of art are also explained and applied by the students.

Bible Sparks Interest in Ancient World

As they proceed to the main building, students Kathy Gunning and Jeanne Marlatt chat with Mr. Dennis Allen, Bible instructor and sponsor of the Enid High Bible Clubs.

The five Bible classes of E.H.S. formed the Bible Club, sponsored by Mr. Dennis Allen. Each class elected a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer and held bi-monthly meetings during class on Mondays.

A wide range of subjects was covered by various significant speakers, including Rev. Frank Fotopolos, who related interesting facts about the churches and religions of Greece; members of the Enid Fire Department gave a demonstration of home fire hazards and how to take preventative measures against them; students were directly involved in discussions concerning world events of the past and present and their relation to Christian belief; "Bible hockey" occupied club members on "rainy days."

Profound study of the ancient history surrounding biblical events offered students a deeper, more truthful meaning of Christianity.

Enid Youth Gather Business Experience

Teaching fundamental business skills was the main objective of the Enid High Business Department. The department included such courses as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and general business. The students gained skills in business law, completing income tax returns and solving consumer problems. These classes also proved to be helpful in finding part or full time employment.

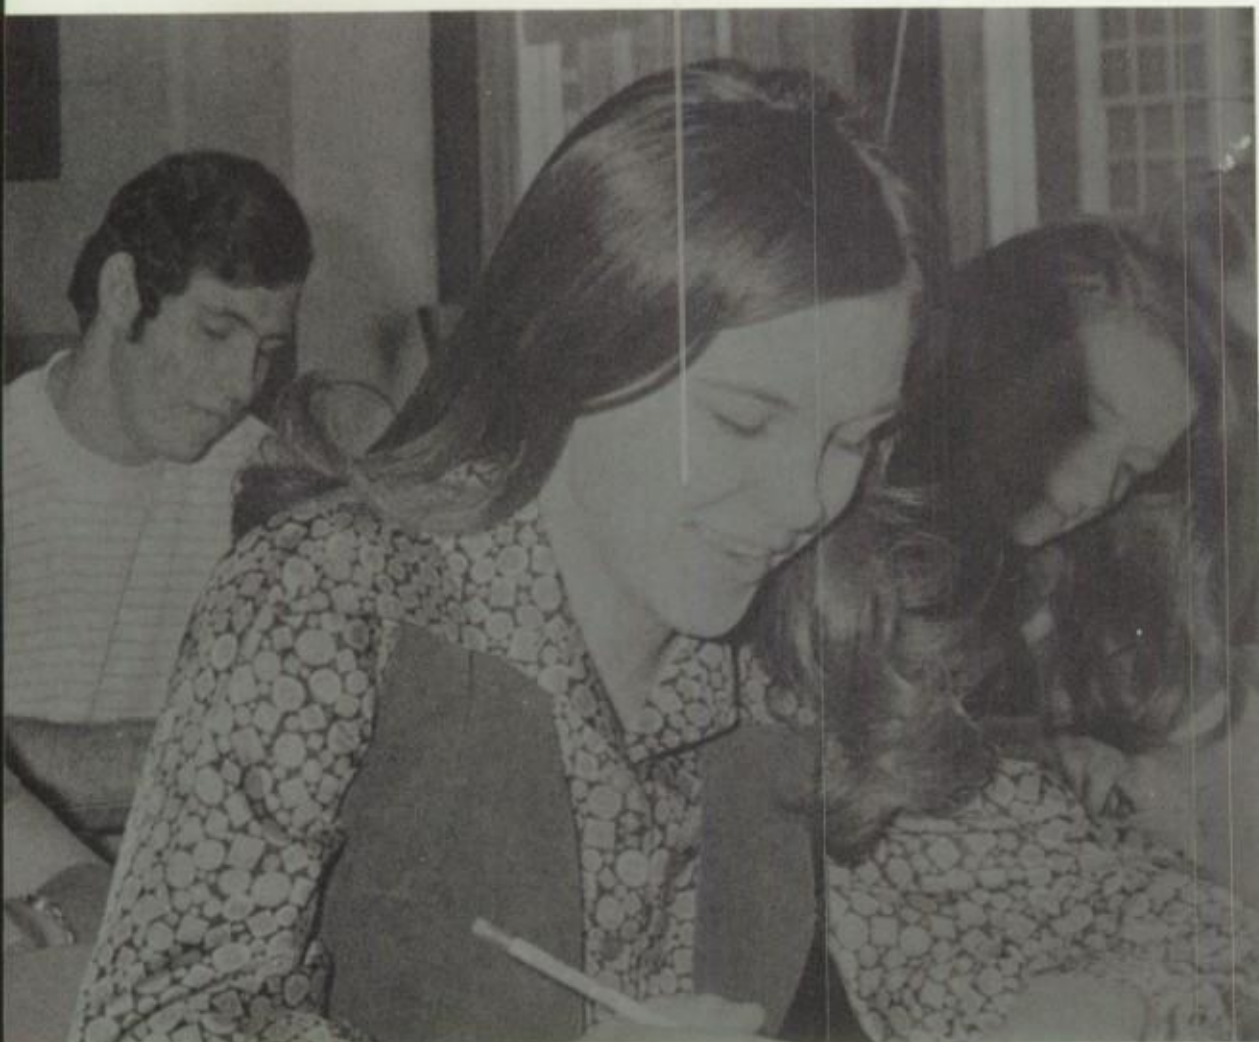

Having assumed the assignment as head of the business department Mr. Gene Rickabaugh also heads the activity office. This year three new teachers have been added to the business office staff: Mrs. Sandra Bunch, Mrs. Velda Pralle, and Mrs. Carolyn Castle.

General Business interests David Steffey as Mrs. Velda Pralle comments on the assignment for the next day. Knowledge in this field will give students the ability to succeed in the future.

Testing is only a part of school work but it prepares students for their future when job applications require examinations: Steve Meyers, Vickie Hart and Mahota Mullican proceed to the next section of a test.

Caught unaware by the photographer, Jay Mabry concentrates on his seemingly hard typing lesson, learning a skill useful to his future.

Business World Encountered by DE-ICT

An essential part of the vocational training program offered by the Enid School System is the EHS chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. Students participating in DE attended regular morning classes and worked in local retail businesses during the afternoon. Besides gaining valuable commercial experience and earning salaries, DE students also acquired academic credits toward graduation.

The I.C.T. program at E.H.S., headed by Mr. Eugene J. McCoy, is designed to provide vocational training in a trade on a part time basis for high school juniors and seniors. The students alternated on a half-day basis between study in school and training on the job as an employee.

Preparing students for successful future careers was the main objective of both programs.

Puzzled by the business world Bobby Rowe asks DE instructor, Mr. Don Hiebert, a question.

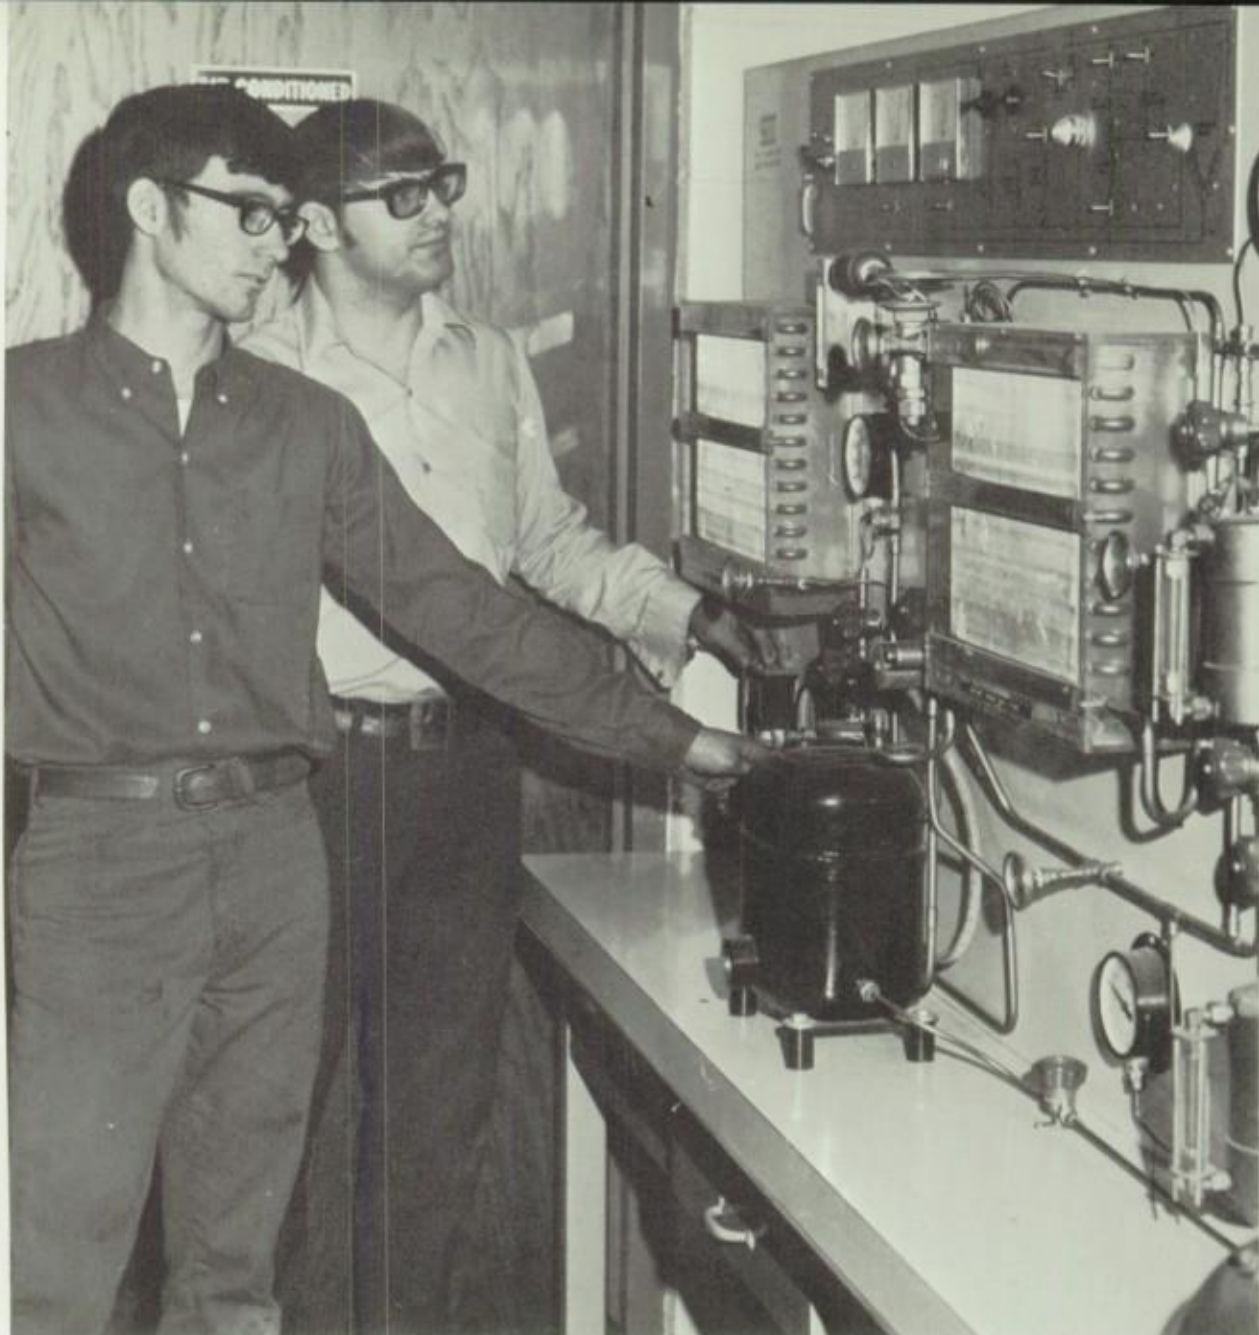

Vo-Tech Aids Versatility

O.T. Autry Area Vocational Technical School gives opportunities to students of Enid High and the surrounding area for practical experience and learning in technical fields.

Subjects such as farm machinery, small engine repair, food service, welding, dental assistance, jet mechanics, printing, and business training are offered at the school for any area student.

Students obtain high school credit for these courses. Post graduate courses are offered in night classes preparing students for jobs at local businesses.

High school students interested in vocational skills obtain high school diplomas with the combined efforts of Enid High School and the O. T. Autry School. This variety of interests provides solid citizens for our community.

Jim Osburn and Don Tribble demonstrate the fundamentals of air conditioning, learning the process and repair of air conditioning units, knowledge that will aid them in a vocation or avocation in their future life.

Small engine repair proves helpful to Brent Beebe, Albert Sanders, Daniel Robinson and Jack Hawkins as they work on a new model motorcycle, obtaining practical experience.

Danny Jackson, Hank Litton, Don McClung and Martin Poage apply knowledge learned in the welding class offered to high school students at Vo-Tech.

Mike Wheelahan and Stanley Dixon prove that boys as well as girls are interested in food service, here helping Guin Ryder in preparation of pastries served in the cafeteria.

Operation of the radio drill press is demonstrated by Randy George, a junior at Enid High School.

Physical education is a requirement of public schools in Oklahoma. Even though a required subject, students at Enid High School enjoy the exercise and fun gained from PE classes.

Mrs. Judy Hickle and Miss Barbara Beggs are the instructors for girls' gym and swimming classes. Through proper exercise and instruction in mental and emotional stability, these instructors promote healthy attitudes for the students at Enid High School.

Proudly displaying trophies won in class tennis tournament are Donna McDaniel, Joan Herlihy, Patti Kutz and Lyn Parrish.

Varied Activities Promote Sportsmanship

The balance beam provides new opportunities for girls to develop skill and grace. Working out on the beam are Mary McClure and Pam Rickabaugh. Jyl Evans, Cindy Freeney, Brenda Coleman and Candy Bowman help steady them.

Mrs. Maurine Priebe directs the mixed chorus on stage, checking microphones and sound of accompaniment for best quality in the chorus performance. The inspiration and entertainment is a tribute to the group.

The 1970-71 Mixed Chorus made its debut when it sang for the EEA dinner in November. This performance marked the beginning of an extremely busy year for the chorus.

The diligence and able instruction of Mrs. Maurene Priebe prepared the chorus for the holiday season. The chorus added reverence along with patriotism when they performed at the Thanksgiving assembly.

Next came the annual Christmas Vespers at Convention Hall where the chorus performed with the junior highs and grade schools. During the Christmas season, the chorus also performed at many of the civic clubs and caroled through the halls at school.

The chorus upheld the expectations of many when it presented the final concert "Time to Sing," showing that hard work is the key to perfection.

As a finale for many, the 1970-71 chorus brought another year to an end with the splendor of May Fete.

EHS Chorus Members Blend in Harmony

Diligence, patience, and talent are only a few characteristics which typify the members of the Enid High Boys' and Girls' Choruses. Each chorus endeavors to surpass choruses from preceeding years.

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Maurine Priebe, the choruses perform each year in assemblies, Christmas Vespers, Tri-State and the final concert, "Time to Sing."

Along with these choruses, special voices chosen for harmony from the Enid High Madrigal Singers. Dressed in Eighteenth Century costumes, these students perform for various community and school activities, lending an air of forgotten days to the holidays.

Voices blending in harmony end another year at Enid High. Along with experience, chorus members build memories of 1970-71 never to be forgotten.

The Enid High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Griffin, proved their talented capabilities again this year. Echoes of the melodies from "Oliver" and other songs such as "Sleigh Ride" rang through the halls as the orchestra gave another winter concert.

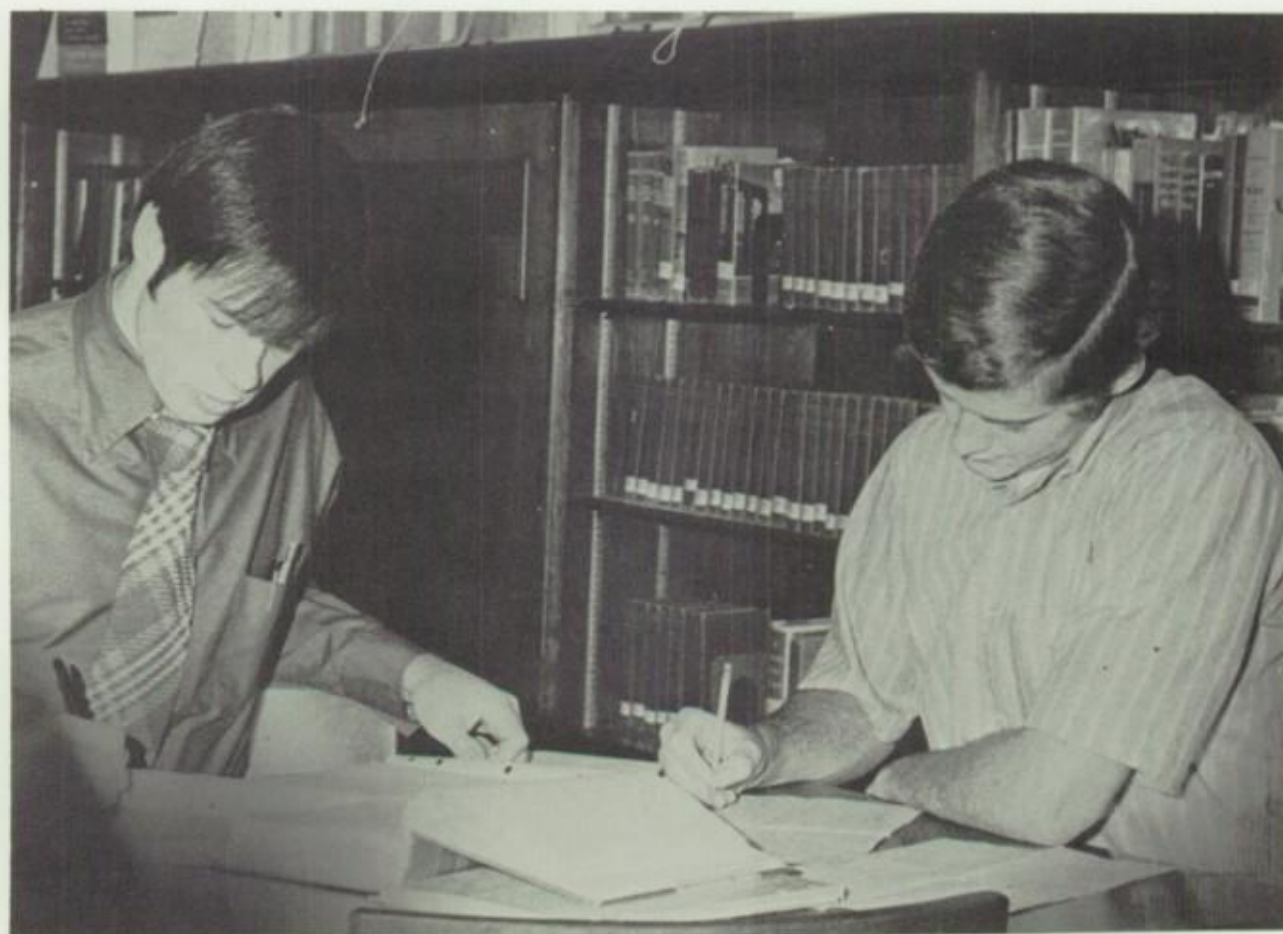

As always, the orchestra brought distinction to Enid high as they performed in the district contest at Tonkawa.

This year the EHS Orchestra traveled to the newly established Tri-State in Amarillo, Texas. There they competed with other orchestras from many states.

One of the highest honors bestowed on only a few Oklahoma musicians is that of All-State Orchestra and Band. This year, the EHS Orchestra was honored by having several members named to be All-Staters.

LEADERS and PERSONALITIES

Senior Honor Society members Karen Smith and Jolene Burdg participate in selling concessions to an unidentified Plainsmen booster at a home game at Plainsmen Stadium during the regular 1970-71 football season.

Robert King, president of NHS, presides at a regular monthly business meeting for the group.

Honor Group Proves Willingness to Serve

Membership in the Errol Kesner Chapter of the National Honor Society is obtained by maintaining a 3.35 grade average and being rated by teachers and counselors as outstanding in character, service and leadership to the school.

The members of the Honor Society participated in many activities, including selling concessions at a football game, initiating new members, and attending monthly meetings. They also encouraged voting by placing posters throughout the downtown area, promoting a "get the vote out" campaign.

Eight Enid High students brought honor to our school by being named National Merit Semifinalists on the National Merit qualifying test. Ten received letters of commendation for their performance on the test.

Honor Society members are active, interested students who strive to better themselves and their community by service and loyalty to a cause.

EHS Interests Aired by Student Council

The 1970-71 school year was a busy one for the Enid High Student Council. Student Council representatives were selected by their homerooms for outstanding leadership, high grade point average and strong citizenship. Throughout the year these representatives were active in regular meetings as well as the many projects sponsored by the Student Council.

The new students' party hosted by the student council helped students new to Enid High get acquainted with our school.

The Student Council worked hard to get the student directories out early in the year.

Serving as hosts and hostesses for Open

House and High School Visitation Day, Student Council members met responsibilities to help people get acquainted with EHS.

This year's Christmas collection for the Salvation Army was the largest ever with more than a thousand dollars being donated by students. The food contributed by the homerooms was on display in the Student Center in order that students might see it.

Students looked forward to Christmas and Valentines Day and the annual Student Council post offices.

Football and basketball homecomings were enjoyed by all students. The Student Council sold concessions at a football game in order to finance these and other activities.

Changes brought to Enid High this year by the Student Council included a pay telephone and ropes around the school seal. The telephone is located outside the cafeteria and is available to all students. Royal blue velvet ropes and silver goal poles were placed around the seal to keep unknowing students from walking on the seal.

The Student Council under the able leadership of the officers and sponsor, Mr. Stanley Jenkins, accomplished much to improve EHS and make the year better for all students.

Mary Goggin uses the pay phone installed outside the cafeteria. The phone was installed at request of the Student Council.

CLASSES

Spirit, Unity Personified in Class of '71

*All People Are Good
But Better Are None
Than All The Seniors
... Of '71*

Our final year at Enid High School produced many happy memories for the class of 1971. As Seniors we participated in every community project available for high school students.

Concern for others prompted many seniors to aid our community. Resourceful upperclassmen volunteered their services and equipment to paint the home of a retired lady. Others participated in the Gaslight Theater, bringing joy and entertainment to the citizens of Enid.

The deafening roar assuring the seniors victory in the competition yell typified the spirit in the Class of '71. The familiar sight of buses at out-of-town games declared the enthusiasm backing our team.

Enid High has many honored traditions. Let 'Er Rip, Sadie Hawkins, and homecoming celebrations enriched our high school years. May Fete and Graduation, also traditions, marked the closing of our final year for the Class of 1971.

Planning a vocation takes experience in a variety of fields to find an interest; Monty Gearhart tries his hand at newswriting, testing his talent and ability.

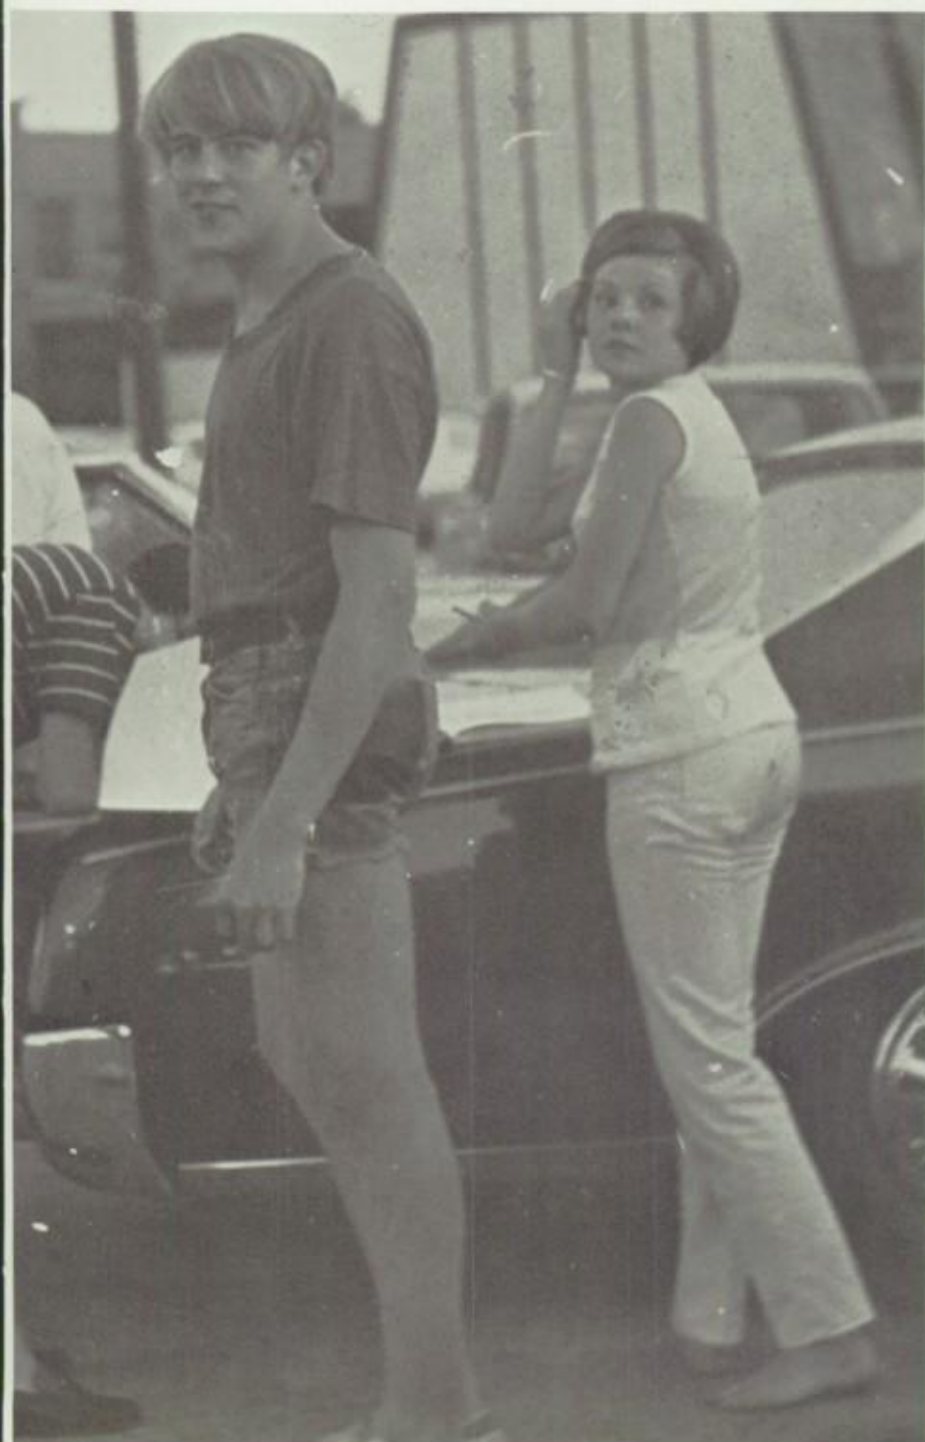

Graduates Accept Future of Involvement

Walter Baker and Jana Bengé work on a weekly Sunday School lesson for their class at the Enid State School.

Senior art student Linda LaCroix enjoys the new location of the art room in which to further her artistic abilities and interests, furthering hopes of future fun and profit.

Martha Schroeder displays talent, personality, scholastic ability and poise as she brings the title of Miss Teenage Oklahoma City to Enid for the year 1970.

Relaxing and enjoying QUILL annuals, Chuck Hardcastle and Judy Crow remember the activities of the year and sign each others, giving more meaning to high school memories.

Running the Junior Class business and responsibilities are Robbie Hall, president; Ben Hardcastle, reporter; Carol Zaloudek, secretary; Cindy Martin, vice-president; and Sally Weeks, treasurer.

United Juniors on the Right Track

Making memories, meeting people, having fun, and many other activities have made the 1971 Junior Class exciting. The Junior Senior Prom was beautiful, as always, with the juniors working diligently to decorate the education building, keeping the theme a secret, and trying hard not to burst with excitement.

Working as an involved class, the juniors presented a great reception program. Juniors, as well as seniors, enjoyed the fun and amusement. Memories were well established for both groups.

The Junior Class of Enid High School

leaves prepared for a bright future. Achieved goals, high scholastic standings, and lasting friendships add to the firm foundation that the juniors have established. The 1970-71 Junior Class of Enid High School leave worthwhile memories with the hope of returning to make more.

Enjoying their friendship, Kris Ladasau and Glenda Long stop for a bit of feather tickling between classes.

Combined Efforts Motivate School Pride

Rex Harmon is taking a well-earned break from his studies. But it is short-lived, as he must return to the old grind after only a few brief seconds of rest.

There's always time for juniors Robbie Hall and Steve Foglesong to shout greetings to their friends.

Sophomores Blend with School Enthusiasm

Officers leading the 1970-71 Sophomore Class are Jeni Cook, secretary, Byron Mitchell, vice-president, Wes Hurlbutt, president, Pam Rickabaugh, reporter, and Debbie Lacey, treasurer.

Sophomores have made one more step up the ladder into the complex world awaiting them with their boundless enthusiasm. They are involved in the intricate preparation of learning, growing, maturing . . . soon they will be the leaders and will carry on their shoulders the world in which we live.

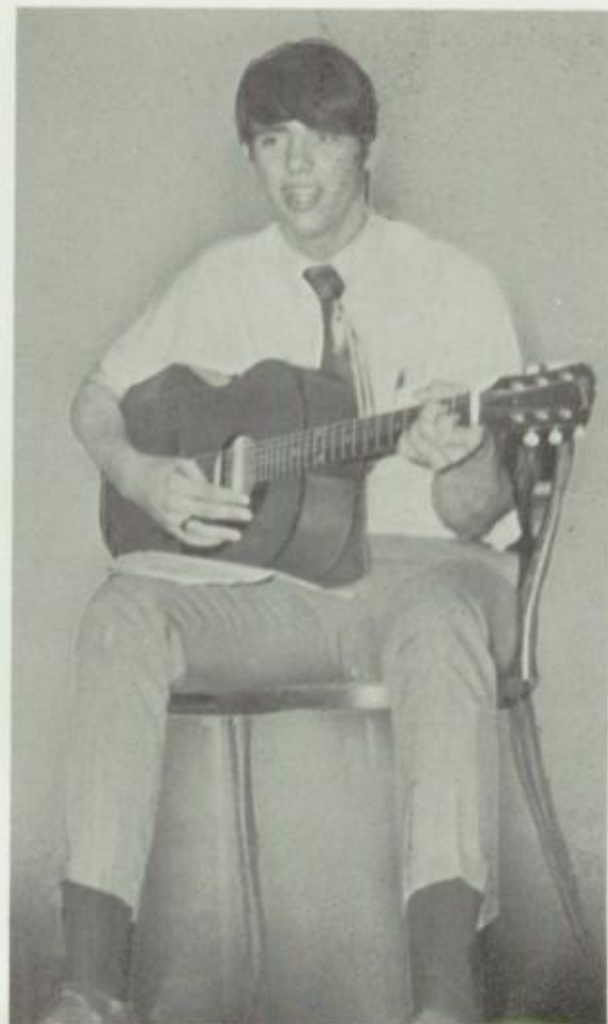

When they reached that next step up the ladder of knowledge to the high school, they found awaiting them an infinite area in which to become involved. They find driver's education, band, football, basketball, track, baseball, swimming, sewing, foods, chorus, clubs, and academic subjects not offered before.

To add to their busy schedule most of these eager sophomores still find time for jobs, volunteer work, church activities and fun. Sophomores are an important part of the student body at Enid High.

Marsha Arnold, Melanie Craig, Belinda Story, Carla Steinert, and Debbie Linton gather in the hall before heading to Mr. Giles' first hour study hall.

SPECIAL INTERESTS

Cheerleaders, Officers Pilot Enid Spirit

Bravettes push enthusiasm and spirit throughout the school year. Working hard on Thursday nights, the club "deck the halls" with clever slogans and colorful streamers. In addition to decorating, the Bravettes take two out-of-town trips, sell the Homecoming mums, and put on skits in the pep assemblies. Volunteers from the club pass containers at one home game to collect money for the Community Chest.

During the summer vacation, the cheerleaders attend a cheerleading clinic where they compete against Cheerleaders from other schools all over the state. The clinic is held on the University of Oklahoma campus at Norman and lasts one week. This year the cheerleaders returned with some of the highest honors given.

For each night of competition, they earned a blue ribbon. Winning the spirit stick on Tuesday and again on Friday enabled them to bring it home. Also on Friday, the entire clinic votes on the group that has had the most spirit throughout the week and is given a giant spark plug. The cheerleaders brought honor to themselves and Enid High by winning this.

By attending all home football and basketball games, the pep club boosts the school and community spirit. It is this spirit and backing that keeps the Enid Plainsmen on top.

Volunteers Render Service to Everyone

Each year the general office assistants aid the administration in the functioning of the school. Picking up the daily attendance slips, delivering other slips and mail to students and teachers kept the office running smoothly and efficiently.

Office assistants, under the guidance of Mrs. Florence Scott, helped teachers, the principal, and the secretaries with special errands and requests. These errands and deliveries saved the office secretaries hours of work and aided the office assistants in learning the operation of both office and school.

This year the library assistants of Enid High voluntarily gave of their own time when signing to take this non-credit course. The repair and shelving of books along with assisting their fellow students in finding material were among their many duties. A complete knowledge of how a library functions (including the Dewey Decimal System and operation of the time-punch) was a necessity for all library assistants. Library club met every Wednesday. Always concerned with finding more ways of creating student body interest in the library, these students gave service to their school and gained knowledge for themselves.

Assistance Adds Meaning to School Life

Concerned students offer service to our school by volunteering to work in the guidance and activity offices.

Business students are selected to work in the activity office. These students have the duties of selling notebooks, paper and pencils to other students. Tickets to school events are also sold in the activity office.

These students assist by keeping the records of the school and organizational spending of all Enid High activities.

Guidance office assistants save a great deal of time and energy for the counselors by running errands for them and passing out call slips. They are also kept busy by helping other students who come into the guidance office.

These two groups provide dedicated service and are essential to the operation of our school. Through helping others, students find self satisfaction in responsibilities associated with Enid High.

Community Medical Jobs Studied by MA

Guided by capable officers, Sally Mummel, president; Joan Richardson, vice president; Debbie Whitlow, secretary; and Linda Schwind, treasurer, Medical Arts club members worked fervently to organize events for the coming year.

Club success in community works and projects was attained by the close co-operation of sponsor Mrs. Loretta Peckham. Birch Cottage at the Enid State School was sponsored by club members, and five members assisted with duties in the Health Station.

Mrs. Carol Blankenship aided the February meeting of club members with the ladies of the Garfield County Medical Auxiliary and promoted working relations between the two organizations.

The tour of the new facilities at Bass Baptist Memorial Hospital and an interesting program conducted by Mr. John McMillan, administrator of St. Mary's Hospital, headlined another rewarding year for the club.

Mrs. Loretta Peckham, school nurse, assists Mari Manning with prescribed eye drops, one of the many jobs undertaken by Mrs. Peckham during school hours.

Aquaettes Perform Precision Routines

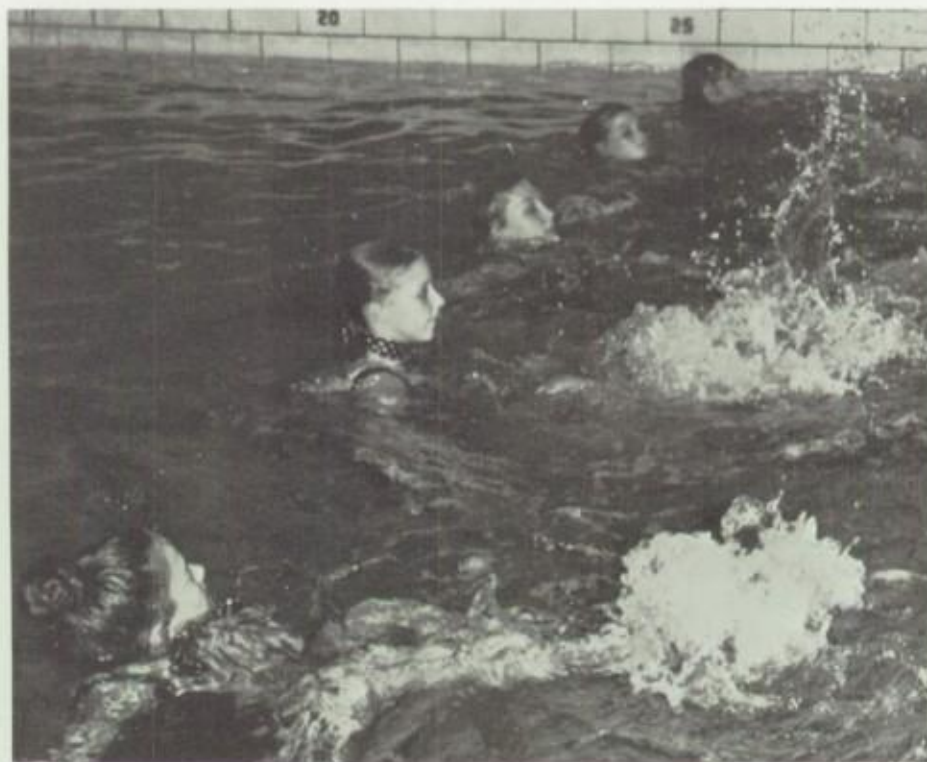

The 1970-1971 Aquaettes splashed into the school year with demonstrations of various swimming routines at their open house show. Groups of Aquaettes composed these routines to instrumental music, then executed them before interested guests at the education week program. Aquaettes also demonstrated various strokes and stunts, such as the summer-sub, catalina, and Eiffel tower. These skills must be mastered before a girl can become an Aquaette.

Skill, talent, and precision highlighted the annual water show. The dazzling lights and decorations added to the Aquaettes' performances. The annual show is a product of many months of practice and work, both in the water and out.

The 1971 Aquaette Queen was presented with red roses and the traditional kiss from student body president, Jeff Mabry, as a highlight to the annual Aquaette Show.

To the tune of "Big Spender," with canes, top hats and costumes including polka dot skirts and ties, Connie Cummins, Suzanne Bracher, Jan Becker, Toni Robinson and Susie Wells entertain their audience with their routine at the Aquaette Show.

FHA Study, Enact Courtesies of Home

Future Homemakers of America have been led through a successful second year at Enid High School. Striving to meet the challenge of their motto, "Toward New Horizon," the members foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.

Activities this year have included environmental awareness, a tasting party, and making stuffed animals to sell at Christmas. The year was highlighted by the State Rally at Oklahoma City, which is held in the spring each year.

Interest in Home Economics, home economic careers and related occupations is inspired by the individual and group activities of Future Homemakers.

FTA Club Offers Helping Hand to City

The Future Teachers of America began the year with an organizational meeting in the form of a coke party in the school cafeteria. Since then the club has taken on many projects to benefit the community. One project in November included raking leaves at the homes of retired teachers. At Thanksgiving, chalk drawings were taken to the homes of the retired teachers.

During December FTA members had a wrapping party to wrap gifts for a Christmas party for underprivileged children. This party had a Santa Claus, a tree which the children helped decorate and a present for each child. Members also caroled for active and retired teachers and then gathered for hot chocolate afterward. Members also helped the Salvation Army sort groceries to take to needy families in Enid.

The remainder of the year was devoted to attending the two conventions that are held every year. The fall convention was in Norman and the spring conference was held in Stillwater.

Programs for meetings were planned around the theme "Education Around the World." FTA members became a part of the involvement in community activities.

Offering a helping hand to retired teachers, FTA members Sherri Erwin and Debbie Kirchner rake leaves in front of Mr. Myrl Kirk's house, not only giving service but gaining personal satisfaction.

Logical Views Awakened by Debate, NFL

A great deal of hard work is put into the Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. Howard Domnick. Files for affirmative and negative views are prepared, covering current news and questions of public interest. The debate question this year was "Resolved: Federal Government should establish, finance, and administer program to control air and water pollution."

The promotion of public speaking is the major aim of the National Forensic League. This aim is accomplished as students compete in regional and state speech tournaments, perform before civic organizations, and appear on school assemblies.

To gain membership in NFL a student must earn at least 25 points. Points are earned by speaking, performing a humorous or dramatic duet for at least five minutes before an adult audience of 25 or more, and other activities involving speech work. Ten points must be earned in contests of debate, humorous or dramatic interpretations, original oration, standard oration, after-dinner speaking, poetry interpretation or radio speaking.

Concern, constructive criticism, and guidance shows in the face of Mr. Howard Dominick, head of speech.

Phil Moon, and Paula Tigner check NFL points after a monthly meeting.

Thespians Display Varied Dramatic Talents

One of the most talented and hard-working organizations is the Enid High Thespian group. Abundant talent and enthusiasm can be found as Thespians prepare for their many activities: the Talent Revue, Thespian Play, a one-act play, and a costume revue during Open House. Thespians are also active in the All School and Senior plays.

Membership in the National Thespian Organization is obtained by being in a play and earning ten points. These points can be earned by serving on committees, assisting with production, and appearing in plays.

The purpose is to promote the dramatic arts and this is achieved by studying all aspects of the theater and performing for civic groups. The Thespians hold an annual get acquainted party, informative meetings, and a Senior Honor Banquet at the end of the year when outstanding actors and actresses are named. The Outstanding Thespian and Honor Thespians are also named then.

This fine organization upholds the traditions and ideals of Enid High School.

Vernon Barnes turns to watch as Steve Cropper leads the way for Jamie Robinson, who takes the handoff from Jeff Mabry and picks up an Enid High Plainsmen first down against the Shawnee Wolves in Enid's second home game.

The Enid High School Plainsmen started the 1970-71 season with three deserving victories over Stillwater, Southeast, and Shawnee high schools.

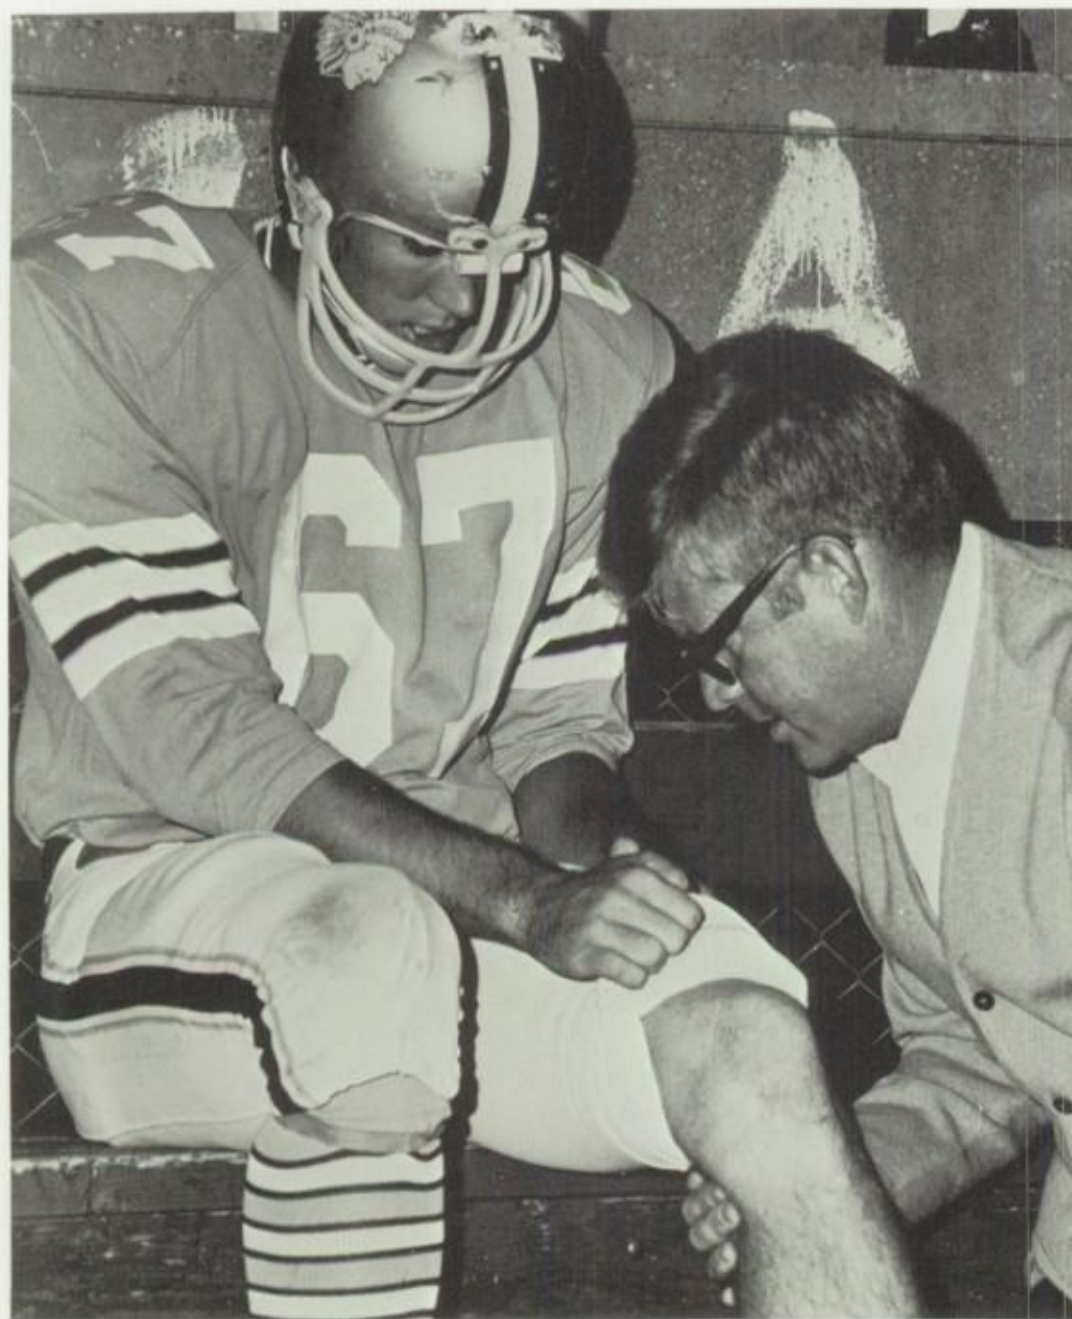

The toughest game of the three was against the Shawnee Wolves. The only touchdown of the game came when senior halfback, Jamie Robison vaulted over from the one yard line midway through the second quarter. The defense held for the Homecoming Victory.

The Plainsmen then dropped two games in a row, one to the Putnam City Pirates by a margin of 7-21 and one to the Tulsa Rogers Ropers in a tough defensive contest.

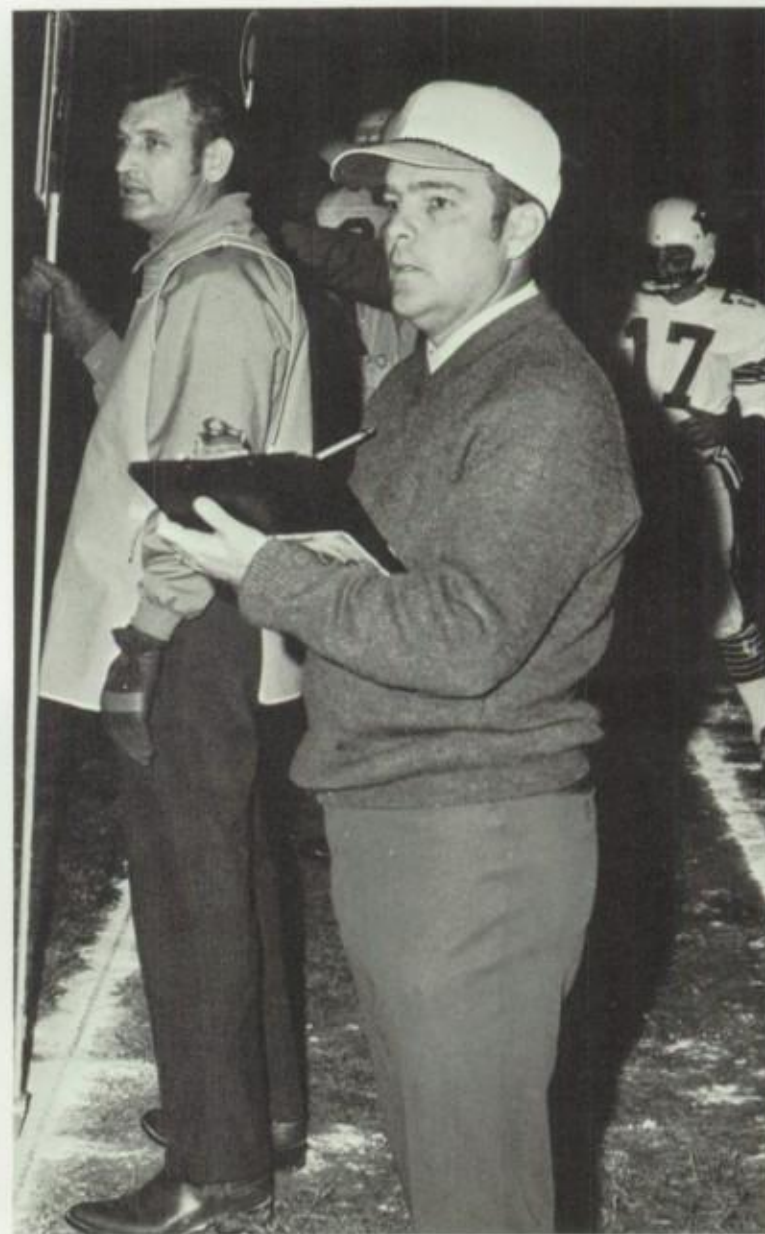

The following week of school was devoted to raising the Plainsmen's spirit. The entire student body and faculty united to "BEAT THE WILDCATS." The Big Blue traveled to Ponca with an unconquerable spirit. The Plainsmen came onto the field with only one thing on their mind — win. It was a tough game from the beginning; both teams battled hard the first quarter, and as the second quarter began, Enid was in possession of the football. The Plainsmen, led by reserve quarterback Paul Thomas, drove for a touchdown with Vernon Barnes going over for the score.

Solid Plainsmen Defense Brings Victories

Action continued in the Ponca City game with a pass from Paul Thomas to Keith Watts covering 49 yards. The score at halftime was 7-0 in Enid's favor. As the second half began the Wildcats fought to score, but the tight Enid defense would not permit it. When the final gun sounded the Enid High Plainsmen had defeated the Wildcats in an earned 7-0 victory.

Enid hosted league leading Tulsa East Central the following week. The Cardinals, on their first possession drove down field and scored on a long pass play. Enid received the ball and launched a drive which consumed nearly all of the second quarter and led to an Enid touchdown. With the score 7-6 in Tulsa's favor, senior quarterback Jeff Mabry gambled for the two point conversion. Mabry hit Vernon Barnes in the end zone for the two points to give Enid a 8-7 victory over the Cardinals.

Next Friday night, the Plainsmen invaded the Midwest City Bombers' Rose field in the game of the week. From the opening kick off the Midwest City Bombers dominated the game with an unpenetrable defense and an awesome offense. The Plainsmen defense played their tough defense up until the fourth quarter when the Bombers exploded for fourteen points to go with their other seven. The 0-21 loss put Enid 5-3 for the year to this point in the season.

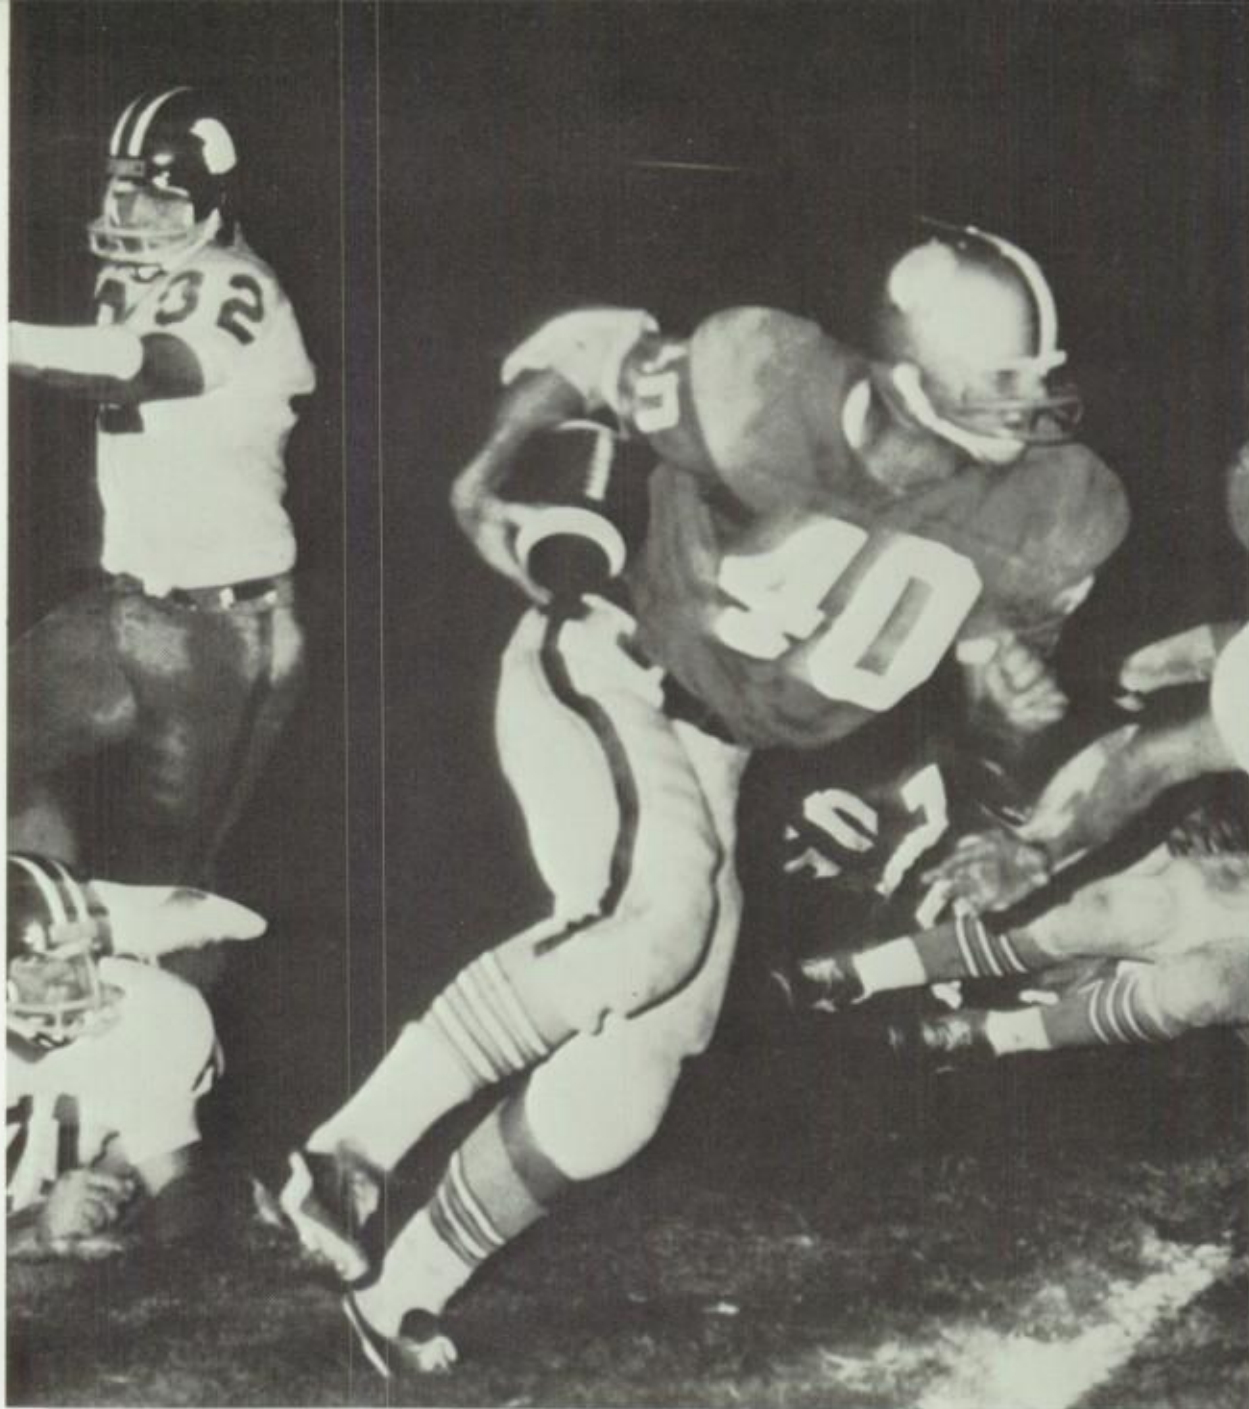

COACHING STAFF: Luke Thompson, Bob Heitzman, Robert Greenhaw, Alvin Duke (head coach), James Loomis, Floyd Winfield.

Enid traveled to Tulsa Memorial for a game that would decide the District 4A-4 championship. The Plainsmen defense held the Chargers to six points the first half but the Charger defense thwarted Enid any points, giving Memorial a 0-6 lead at the half.

Midway through the third quarter the Chargers blocked a Doug Durham punt and picked up the ball and ran for the score. At the end of the third quarter, Jeff Mabry threw a 56 yard touchdown bomb to Keith Watts. Steve Cropper added the extra point to make the score 7-12. The Plainsmen couldn't mount a drive and when the gun went off the score was 7-15 in Tulsa Memorial's favor.

In Enid's final game, the Plainsmen hosted Tulsa Hale. The Plainsmen battled to the gun but lost by a 11-32 margin.

As a highlight of the 1970-71 the season the Plainsmen landed five starters on the all-conference team. Named on the first string defensive unit were Brad Hutchinson, tackle; Roy Lacey, nose guard; and Tony Briley, linebacker. Those named to the offensive unit were Dean Mendenhall, center, and Keith Watts, end. "Honorable Mention" included Richard Cummings, end; Jeff Mabry, quarterback; Gary Fleming, cornerback; Harley Justus, linebacker; and Gary Reid and Keith Phillips, defensive ends.

Senior halfback Steve Cropper runs through the Southeast defense, making a long gain for the Plainsmen A team.

Putnam City's B-team game was the only blemish on the Highlander's record. Putnam City scored once for a 0-8 victory the first time the two teams met; but on their second encounter, the Highlanders rolled over Putnam by a 25-13 majority.

Defense was a big word for the Highlanders. They shut out four opponents and no team scored more than three touchdowns during the season.

The Highlander squad's main purpose is to mature the boys for the A-Squad. The players are sophomores and juniors who will be future Enid Plainsmen.

The basketball "B" team had outstanding players this year in Frank Dunlap, who led the scoring, Vernon Barnes, Terry Unruh and Terry Bush, giving the team versatility. With these fine players, Enid's basketball future looks bright.

With only 3 wins during the season, the team did not lose its enthusiasm. The squad continued to work hard and aided the Plainsmen with their display of determination.

From 1910 to 1971

For the past 43 years, I have been the photographer for Enid High School, although it seems only a short time. I have walked through these halls many years, and still I stop to look at the old and new senior class pictures. My senior picture hangs on the wall on the third floor, Class of 1927.

The photographs on the walls on the third floor are from 1914 to 1942, and on the second floor from 1943 to 1971. Look how they dressed and wore their hair in those days — and all through the years to 1971.

My father, Gene McConkay, in 1910 made the first pictures for the QUILL Annual. Through these 61 years, Enid High has put out an annual except one year during the depression, but the McConkays still made the photographs for that year so the senior pictures could be hung in the hall.

Miss Ruth Scott and I have worked for 27 years on QUILL annuals, and during that time the yearbook has won many state and national honors.

I have enjoyed working with the teachers that have been here for many years and those just starting.

I want to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Mauk and his office staff, Ruth Hodgson, faculty and members of the school body, for time and patience putting up with me.

You see, I feel like "A picture on the wall," I have been around a long time.

Mr. Duckett
You have been one of the nicest teachers a guy could have.

Don. Williams

Mr. Duckett,
You are a really great teacher,
You should always be a Biology teacher.
You have made Biology so interesting.
For you make me feel involved with it.
If all teachers were as great as you,
School would never make anyone bored.
There will never be another teacher like you.
For he brings good cheer and joy.

Mr. Duckett

I've enjoyed being in your class this year. I probably could have learned more this year but I did learn on how to dress. You're one of the sharpest dressed teachers I have.

Hope to see you again,

Wendy Prentice
